

STAY HOME ► PROTECT THE NHS ► SAVE LIVES

Dear Parents

Finally you have a date in your mind about when your children may start back at school. Following the Prime Ministers announcement this week we are working towards 8th March for a possible return for some children.

If you miss out half term, that is 20 days of home learning. When we have spoken to parents over the last few weeks we hope we have reassured you that whilst we really want every child to engage fully with the remote learning we understand the stress it might be placing you under.

The message is do as much as you can together and be assured when they return we will have plans in place to catch up in the coming years..

Mass for the Feast of St John Bosco

Mass will be celebrated by Fr Hugh and Deacon Michael on Wednesday 3rd February at 10am. All families are very welcome.

Wednesday Word

Appreciation of teachers both at home and those in schools figures a lot in our liturgical celebrations this week.

St John Bosco founded the Salesian order to support and teach young children on the streets on Turin.

In This Sundays Gospel Jesus was found teaching in the synagogue

The Wednesday word this week is TEACHER

“Educating is an act of love; It is like giving life, “ Pope Francis

Try to keep that in mind parents as you struggle through the next 40 days!

Heartfelt thanks to our friends at Emanuel School www.emanuel.org.uk and City Harvest www.cityharvest.org.uk for delivering weekly food supplies that we can share with those who need them amongst our school community We are very grateful.
